NBCI Declares the Obama Administration Morally Void in its Quest to Pander to Same Sex Marriage Officials are testing the loving nature of God

Washington DC – The National Black Church Initiative, a coalition of 34,000 churches representing 15.7 million African American churchgoers continued to be baffled as to why the Obama Administration continues to test the loving nature of the Lord over the legalization and support of same sex marriage.

This comes as Attorney General Eric Holder announced the U.S. Department of Justice will recognize same sex marriage to the full extent of the law in all jurisdictions it oversees. This now extends benefits granted to those married lawfully under the eyes of God to those same sex couples whose unions seen as blasphemous under God, including survivor's benefits, bankruptcy proceedings and prison visitations.

DOJ's latest antics undermine God's definition of biblical marriage Attorney General Holder as made it clear that he will be swayed by what is popular, despite prosecutors using various legal challenges against this type of spousal privilege and even in states where same-sex marriages are not recognized.

Rev. Anthony Evans, NBCI President, says "This administration continues to force its moral authority over something only God can preside. They are void of any Godness – and continue to anger God. Their answer will come soon enough, and NBCI prays for mercy for them."

NBCI will continue to be a tireless advocate for biblical marriage, even as such oppressive tides try to use popular opinions as moral authority over the church.
